RELEASE: Immediate

STATINTL

BOSTON Falls Church,

will graduate from the 7th session of the Program for Management Development at the Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration. He is the Administrative Officer for the Central Intelligence Agency in Washington D.C.

The Program for Management Development brings young executives from approximately 28 to 30 years of age, with five to ten years of experience, back into the classroom on a full-time basis for 16 weeks. Each participant in the PMD Program is sponsored by his company. A wide range of industrial concerns from this country and abroad are represented, as well as men from the government and military.

This session ran from February 3, 1964, to May 22, 1964.
